ABB Capital Markets Day 2025

- Registration now open for ABB's Capital Markets Day on November 18, 2025

At this year's ABB Group Capital Markets Day, CEO Morten Wierod, CFO Timo Ihamuotila, and the business area Presidents will share insights on the forward journey, including how their respective businesses help customers become more productive when electricity is the key energy source, energy efficiency, decarbonization of heavy industries and automation as a tool for able and efficient industries.

The event will be held in New Berlin, approximately 20 minutes from Milwaukee in the United States at ABB Motion's mission-to-zero emissions site hosting the divisions Drive Products, System Drives and Service. A good example of how smart leaders collaborate and share facilities while still keeping the dedication and focus on specific customer groups. The CMD offers a casual dinner, presentations by management and an in-person tour of the site including a state-of-the-art Innovation Lab.

The Capital Markets Day is aimed at institutional investors, financial analysts, and financial media, with the opportunity to attend either on site in New Berlin, WI, or via webcast between 09.00 – ca. 13.40 CST.

ABB is organizing the CMD in coordination with ASSA ABLOY, who will host its CMD on November 19, 2025, also in Milwaukee and Siemens Energy, who will host its CMD on November 20, 2025, in Charlotte, North Carolina.
