GKB again rated AA

Graubündner Kantonalbank (GKB) has once again received an AA rating in the latest report from rating agency S&P Global. The key factors behind this very good rating are the broad earnings base, the strong capital position and the state guarantee from the Canton of Graubünden.

In its assessment, S&P Global notes that GKB operates predominantly in its home region and the neighbouring cantons, and focuses on residential mortgages and lending to SMEs. With a local market share of around 60%, GKB accounts for around 40% of cantonal mortgage volume. This illustrates the bank's important role in the lending business in Graubünden.

“The renewed confirmation of the excellent AA rating underlines the stability of GKB. It shows that the bank of the people of Graubünden is on a very solid financial footing and a reliable partner for its clients,” says CEO Daniel Fust.

The outlook from S&P Global for GKB remains stable. This is due in particular to the bank's earnings power, strong capitalisation and deep roots in the canton, along with the state guarantee.
