DKSH Healthcare Expands Electric Fleet in Cambodia to Advance Sustainable and Reliable Healthcare Delivery

DKSH Cambodia strengthen its commitment to sustainable healthcare logistics by deploying five new electric trucks, supporting its long-term sustainability roadmap and enhancing the resilience of cold-chain deliveries across the market.

Phnom Penh, Cambodia, December 23, 2025 – DKSH Business Unit Healthcare, a leading partner for healthcare in Asia and beyond, has expanded its electric fleet in Cambodia with the introduction of five additional electric vehicles (EV). This fleet enhancement is part of DKSH Healthcare's regional efforts to reduce carbon emissions and accelerate progress toward its net-zero ambition.

The deployment of these new EV trucks reflects DKSH's commitment to responsible supply chain development and supports the company's sustainability objective to achieve net-zero emissions in own operations'. Built for consistent cold-chain performance and lower maintenance needs, the EV fleet plays an important role in improving delivery efficiency while reducing the environmental impact of healthcare distribution nationwide.

"We are committed to delivering healthcare products in ways that protect people and the environment. Expanding our EV fleet in Cambodia is a meaningful milestone that demonstrates our focus on building, more sustainable and resilient logistics infrastructure across the region," said Supattra Sukarom, Vice President, Group Supply Chain Business Partner, Healthcare, DKSH. "These vehicles support our net-zero ambition and reinforce our promise to create long-term value for our customers, partners, and the communities we serve."

Jane-jira Polsen, Senior General Manager, Healthcare, DKSH Cambodia, added; "This initiative reflects the strong collaboration between our Healthcare and Supply Chain teams. By working closely together, we are able to ensure reliable healthcare access for our customers while advancing our shared sustainability goals in Cambodia."

This initiative is part of DKSH Healthcare's broader sustainability journey, aligned with global priorities to reduce emissions, enhance energy efficiency, and support healthcare access across diverse markets. Through innovation and collaborative partnerships, DKSH continues to build a more sustainable supply chain that enriches lives and strengthens healthcare systems.
